

The Hastings Law Firm is a specialized law practice dedicated to providing victims of all types of accidental injury with dignified, personalized and professional legal representation. We do not advertise; rather, we have built a thriving, sustaining and highly successful personal injury practice by performing high quality work and developing an excellent reputation within the legal community and with clients. Nearly all of the firm's clients are referred by past or existing clients and by other attorneys and law firms. We take pride in being the go-to personal injury firm for attorneys from every area of the legal world, from sole practitioners to judges and senior partners at the largest and most prestigious law firms in Michigan and the Midwest. Perhaps the strongest testimonial to the quality of our work is that many of our clients are referred to us by attorneys who have opposed us on previous cases.

We recognize that the prospect of taking legal action against an individual or entity is intimidating to most people; we strive to make the process as personalized and user friendly to our clients as possible. We keep our clients well-informed every step of the way.

We are sensitive to the fact that most of our clients have never been involved in a lawsuit prior to coming to us, and had never considered the difficult prospect of pursuing legal action. We do our best to take the confusion out of the process and make it as comfortable as possible for them. Recognizing that we live in a world in which there is a general distaste for injury lawsuits, we maintain a low-key and dignified public profile for our clients, while at the same time enjoying a reputation for excellence and outstanding results within the legal community and with those who matter most--our clients.

The Hastings Law Firm is conveniently located in Royal Oak, Michigan, close to all major metro Detroit freeways and easily accessible from all parts of southeast Michigan. Although the majority of the firm's cases are in Wayne, Oakland, and Macomb Counties, we practice and have attorney relationships in every county and court in Michigan. We further maintain office arrangements across the state--you do not have to come to us--we will come to you.

By retaining The Hastings Law Firm for your personal injury matter, you are assured the highest quality legal representation.
